

Dianthus 'Scent from Heaven'

Description

Bred by Dr Keith Hammett for extended flowering and marked improvement in both habit and performance from traditional Dianthus. 'Scent from Heaven' Dianthus are available in a range of six different flower colours and flower profusely almost all year round, excepting the heart of Winter. Very easy care, 'Scent from Heaven' Dianthus are drought tolerant, suffer from few pests and diseases and require little to no maintenance. Planting the 'Scent from Heaven' plants in full sun, well drained site will encourage more flowers and a tighter habit.

Bred for a compact habit with a proliferation of flowers on a single plant. Consider them for Mothers Day! A novel and well-named gift for a cherished mother who has everything but will delight in these Dianthus

Growing Situation and Care Notes

Full sun and well drained position for optimal performance. Will maintain a compact, tidy habit with little or no management required although these plants will benefit from a dead head removal periodically as this precipitates further flowering.

Beneficial to feed with slow release fertilizers to encourage plant health and performance
