Growing Situation and Care Notes

Extremely tolerant of dry conditions though may enjoy an occasional deep watering during the drier months. Grows in most soil types and will tolerate coastal conditions. Prefers good drainage in wetter environments or where high rainfall. Feed in spring with slow release fertiliser. Removal of spent flowers may assist a more compact bush, though pruning is not generally required. Note some people are allergic to the sap or milk of Euphorbias so gloves may be advisable when pruning or handling cuttings
